Corona Virus – Communication from Ucima Chairman.

Dear Sir or Madam,

At this time of uncertainty amid the escalating coronavirus outbreak in many countries, Ucima (Italian Automatic Packaging Machinery Manufacturers' Association) believes it is essential to inform customers worldwide that our companies have adopted all the necessary measures to protect the health and safety of their employees.

We also wish to reassure you that Italian companies in the sector are making every effort to safeguard their employees and associates so as to guarantee the continuity of production, sales and technical support for customers with the same level of quality and without any limitations.

We must point out that the high level of vigilance and preventive measures properly implemented by the Italian authorities to protect all citizens represents a further guarantee for our international clientele and should in no way be considered a penalising factor for our companies, which have always been attentive to the health and safety of their employees.

This commitment, which also derives from Italy's role as the world's leading exporter country in the packaging industry, obliges all companies to devote the utmost attention to all aspects of health. We also believe that the procedures and safety measures adopted by our companies can serve as a model to be followed and shared with our customers so that they can guarantee the same health standards for their own employees.

All our companies can provide self-certification of the state of health of their technicians and staff sent out to customers' sites all over the world.
